

One Line Gospel - Reflection

(26th Sunday in Ordinary Time — Matthew 21:28–32)

Dear brothers and sisters, Jesus says, “Tax collectors and prostitutes are going into the kingdom of God ahead of you.” He reminds us that God looks not at appearances but at the conversion of the heart. The first son said “no” but later obeyed; the second said “yes” but never acted. Jesus teaches us that true faith is not in words but in the turning of our lives toward honesty, humility, and obedience. God rejoices over every person who chooses to change, even if their journey begins from a place of brokenness.

This week, let us take one step of real
-a step not spoken, but lived. A step that shows God we mean what we say. Where grows, grace enters. enters.

God bless you.
